CAMBRIDGE BRANCH - APPLICATION for MEMBERSHIP

Thank you for your interest in joining the local Cambridge Branch of the Royal Aeronautical Society. We offer a number of types of membership. Local Branch membership is open to all. Ordinary members pay an annual subscription. A reduction is offered to Senior Citizens and those unwaged. Members of the Main Society are encouraged to affiliate themselves to their local branch. Their fees to the local branch are in effect paid by the main Society through a central grant.

We particularly welcome students of all ages. Fees are waived for students and members of the voluntary youth organisations.

We aim to run a varied lecture programme addressing all areas of aerospace. The subscription goes towards speakers' expenses, venue charges, outreach activities and refreshments on occasions. We do not make a profit. Our membership is varied and boasts a number of pilots, constructors, designers, operators, historians, military and people with a general interest in aeronautics.

Casual visitors are welcome. We do as for a small donation to cover costs.

We are grateful for the support we receive from our Presidents, through sponsorship and other donations.

The HQ of the main Society is based in Central London, although focus is towards aviation professionals the society offers affiliated membership grades. The society issues a monthly publication, runs an interesting lecture, conference and events programme and hold the National Aerospace Archive and Library. The HQ makes a useful meeting place in central London.
